Seamless Design Communication by Alexis Ross and Shaf Begen.

Global competition, increased customer expectations, and a faster pace of business are the key drivers forcing organizations to bring products to market swiftly— squeezing product profit cycles.

Additionally, in an effort to drive down costs and increase efficiencies, companies are extending their resources and suppliers across multiple geographies—stretching their entire enterprise. Product Chain Management solutions use innovative tools and processes to communicate “outside the four walls” to address these challenges and allow companies from all industries to compete—and succeed—in the face of today's competitive climate. This enables organizations to seamlessly design, source, make, sell, and service products.

Agile Software, an industry leader in Product Chain Management, provides integrated tools and proven expertise that allows companies to efficiently work with their customers and suppliers to build better, more profitable products faster, and at less cost. Their solution is composed of Product Collaboration, Product Sourcing, and Product Service and Improvement modules. These business-ready application suites allow seamless communication and collaboration across the entire supply chain: spanning design, sourcing, manufacturing, sales, and service—the essence of concurrent product development.
